CALENDLY

Calendly is an awesome scheduling tool that will seriously level up your productivity and time management game. With just a few clicks, you can share your availability and let others pick a time that works for them. One of the key advantages of Calendly is its ability to automatically detect and convert time zones. This means that when you share your availability, Calendly will display the available time slots in the invitee's local time. This eliminates any confusion or miscalculations when scheduling across different time zones.

FRECKLE
